

RECOGNITIONS

Attributes

I was born with this body

And I had

Nothing to do with this birth.

Its creation was caused

when a collision happened

An egg against a sperm.

A body was the results of that collision

After the smashing of a one DNA package against another

a gestation occurred into an organism, unique,

one of a kind.

These unique attributes such as fingerprints, voice, intelligence, talents or level of health only exist in this body.

No other human organism is exactly like this one.

Here is where my consciousness resides.

The body was preloaded via a DNA collision that created these attributes

Not my doing

but my body,

Here is where my attributes reside

Me & Alone.

RECOGNITIONS

Placement

This Body has a birth placement.

The placement resides in a historical timeline

A timeline with a History
AND an unknown future.

The placement on the planet is in a spot with geological features

Such as hot, cold, wet or dry, mountains, seashore, or valley.

The placement is into a cultural

a culture being practice by a community.

The cultural will have a structure

within that overall community structure are many subcultures, such as: merchant, farmer, military, academic or something else,

but the birth does inherit a position

Cultural measurements will happen within the inherited position.

Here is my mind.....in some century.....in some place.....in some culture.....being rich or poor.....healthy or not.

I gain a psychological worth from the placement. The worth is based on the structural measurements-values established by the culture.

All a happenstance and here my consciousness resides and
Here an existence story is taught.

RECOGNITIONS

Existence Story

Here a mind is loaded with the first teaching of

Who they say I am?

The first learning is just a happenstance of the placement.

No right or wrong just what happened.

The existence story is learned through my attributes of intelligence within your mind, in the happenstances of placement, time, location and Culture.

So now, an existence story has been preloaded.

The Community practices will re-enforce the existence story.

These taught beliefs are developed in order to be accepted in the community

The beliefs are continually reinforced by the community's practices.

A Community belief practice is the paradigm used to perceive my existence, a perception.

In the beginning only one story, so, no understanding just believing, a faith.

RECOGNITIONS

Recognizing

The recognizing of these events is The Recognition of what happened to you.

The seeing of the happenstance of a Birth, Attributes, Placement & then existence indoctrination are beliefs not a thinking process.

The physical circumstances of birth and the happenstance of placement provided who you first became

Through a community indoctrination myth.

Recognizing your happenstances,

Of the DNA Load, a fact

Of the Placement, a fact

Of the Community story, a fact

The taught story of your existence is the community's story,

Not yours but the community.

Recognizing the circumstances of Attributes, Placement and Existence Story,

The birth-paradigm can be seen.

These happenings of attributes, placement, teaching has caused,

who you have become?

RECOGNITIONS

A Thinking Process

This is the first understanding of the factual causes of who you are.

Now one can develop an ability to see the entire workings of the birth-paradigm

This is where living started.

The birth-paradigm can be seen in its whole

One can also see the inner working processes, supported by cultural practices,

This runs the living of your life, not you.

Life has been set/reset, algorithm, existence, controlled by the “birth-paradigm”,

A belief system.

All biological life begins by birth and continues by providence which are accidents after accident which is happening to you. All explained and reacted to by the Existence Story that was taught to you.

Birth placed you in an existing culture, a program, just as a programmer write a program for a computer.

You live within a culture/program with many laws, taboos, rewards & failures: all algorithms established by the existence story,

Written by somebody else.

The seeing of the birth-paradigm begins a path to a more revealing understanding to allow the development of a Self.
